

“Australia notches up 25 years of growth as defence spending boosts economy”

The Guardian, 7th September 2016

Treasurer Scott Morrison pays tribute to ‘every Australian’ who has kept the economy growing since 1991

The Australian economy has completed 25 years without a recession after the national accounts showed that the economy grew 3.3% in the year to June.

The treasurer, Scott Morrison, trumpeted the result and described it as “tribute to every Australian who has gone out there, gone to work, got a job, that is running or has started a business”.